TOURIST AMENITIES IN THIS AREA
MARIÁNSKÉ LÁZNĚ

When you pass through the heart of Mariánské Lázně you have the sense that you have been transported back in time to a century ago with the wave of a magic wand. Splendid spa buildings alternate with blossoming parks in which spa guests sit, sipping contentedly on jugs filled from some of the town’s famous springs. Get to know the story of a town which, at the height of its fame, hosted the most important of statesmen and artists, and remains one of Europe’s most beautiful spa towns. It’s hard to imagine that two centuries ago there was nothing here but a valley of inaccessible forest and bubbling swamps. However, when Johann Josef Nehr, a doctor from the nearby monastery in Teplá, proved the unique health-giving effects of the local springs, the spa town soon sprang up. Within a few years it was opening its doors to such figures as Chopin, Strauss, Goethe, Kafka, Freud, Kipling, Edison, Twain and Great Britain’s King Edward VII. In the broader environs of the town there are around 160 springs, while in Mariánské Lázně itself you will find over 50 cold mineral springs that are used for the successful treatment of disorders of the kidneys and urinary tract, the nerves, and the digestive system, as well as skin problems and disorders of the breathing and motor apparatuses. However, you can enjoy a stay here even if nothing ails you. At most of the local spa buildings you can experience genuine pampering in the form of unique wellness procedures that will perfectly relax your body and mind. Mariánské Lázně’s most distinctive feature is the wonderful parks that make it one of Europe’s most beautiful garden towns. You can stroll uninterrupted here, watch water trickle from numerous fountains and springs, breathe in the scent of flowers and trees in bloom, or just unwind with a coffee and some excellent spa wafers. You certainly shouldn’t neglect to take a walk on the elegant neo-classical cast-iron colonnade, which dates from 1899 and is among the most beautiful in Bohemia. In the spa season, concerts of Mariánské Lázně classics are held here, while on special occasions, such as August’s Fryderyk Chopin International Music Festival, the local symphony orchestra also performs. Why not taste the water from the Cross spring, which has beneficial effects on the kidneys, while also enjoying some dulcet tones? Not far from the spring you can take in the world renowned Singing Fountain, at which you can listen to one of several world famous compositions every odd hour on the hour. Those of a romantic nature should return in the evening, when the fountain is illuminated by lighting effects. Do you like history and places surrounded by stories? If so, you should explore the spa town’s environs! Kynžvart Chateau, for instance, is a unique example of classical architecture. Meanwhile, the magnificent Teplá Monastery, founded in the 12th century, has a wonderful library. And if you enjoy more active holidays, visit the Mariánské Lázně Golf Course, which is the only Royal Golf Club (a title bestowed by Great Britain’s Queen Elizabeth II) outside the Commonwealth. Experience a romantic place hidden deep in the woods with a hunting lodge and beautiful pond! There is a place a few kilometers from Mariánské Lázně and its therapeutic springs and bustling colonnades where it seems as if time has stopped. Surrounded by acres of national forests you will discover the Kladská peat bog national reserve with a nature trail. The barrier-free trail starts at a wooden hunting lodge that serves as a boarding house and restaurant, and winds through meadows, forests and peat bogs around Kladská Pond. The gravel-strewn trail gradually turns into a boardwalk, where you will find several pleasant resting points along the way. The golf course complex, spread over 60 hectares, is partly situated in orchards. The oldest course in the Czech Republic was opened by King Edward VII on 21st August 1905. In 2003 HRH Elisabeth II granted the golf club the right to use the title “Royal”. Its location 787 meters above sea level, the flat terrain with 18 holes, beautiful natural landscape with full grown trees as well as the historical club house recreate the spirit of old Scottish and Irish courses.
