THE SHOOTING AREA - ORGANIZATION OF DRIVEN SHOOTING

The Czech Republic boasts high standard driven pheasant shootings in line with local tradition that go back to glorious past of the country. St. Hubertus Hunting Tours staff take proud in proposing high quality pheasant driven shooting in Central Bohemia, around 40 km from Prague Airport. We are talking about an area sizing around 2000 hectares where around 60000 pheasants are shot during each season.

A part of shooting area

Location of pheasant shooting is the wonderful countryside of Central Bohemia. A flawless organization of shooting days together with lay of land (steep terrain) and quality of pheasants assure the most favourable conditions for driven shooting with very high-flying birds. Pheasants are mainly bred in breeding stations inside shooting area and great emphasis is placed on health, general maturity and adaptability of maturing chicks to the harsh conditions of life in the wild. Pheasants are released at the age of 10-12 weeks and they must adapt to life in open forest. Around 60-70 per cent of released birds are lost.

The high number of lost pheasants is strictly linked with high quality of pheasants that you find during driven shooting. Hunting guests usually very appreciated mature pheasants with very good plumage and long tail feathers that allow birds to fly very well and very high. Minimum daily game-bag is 600 birds. Driven pheasant shootings are arranged for group from 7 to 15 shooters.

The main aim of entire organization is to guarantee each guest the best possible comfort during shooting day. In accordance with ancient local traditions hunting horns liven up the end of each shooting day.
